A Sandbox in Heaven
When you see a smile across my face and no tears fill my eyes, know I’m picturing you in heaven’s sandbox made especially for you.

When you hear me laugh aloud and say your name without having to cry, know I’m picturing you in heaven’s sandbox building sand castles as high as the sky.

When you touch my hand and feel my heart still beat, know I’m picturing you in heaven’s sandbox where one day you and I will again meet.

I hope you understand why you’re in Heaven’s sandbox and don’t look here on earth, know there is no better place to be God chose his home in heaven when he came for you, know I’m picturing you in heaven’s sandbox and say your name without having to cry, When you see a smile across my face, know there is no better place to be When you hear me laugh aloud, When you touch my heart

Dr. George Burton Priddle
1938 - 1998

George Priddle's life was dedicated to the development of parks and trails in Canada. His education, from the undergraduate to doctoral level, focused on recreational use and people's perception of Canada's wilderness. George's personal and professional mission was the identification and preservation of Canada's natural heritage for all of its citizens. His influence was widely felt during his 27-year tenure as a professor of Environmental Studies at the University of Waterloo. In 1998 he received the Ontario Heritage Protection Award for outstanding contributions to the provincial parks system.

George's delight in Algonquin Park was the impetus for his life-long passion. His was a labour of love.
